In 2016, Georgia adults with less than a high school education were more than 4 TIMES as likely as those with a Bachelor's degree or higher to skip needed care due to cost.

16.1% of Georgia adults had less than a high school education in 2016.

14.1% of U.S. adults had less than a high school education in 2016.