In 2016, Washington adults with less than a high school education were more than 2 TIMES as likely as those with a Bachelor's degree or higher not to have a personal doctor.

9.7% of Washington adults had less than a high school education in 2016.

14.1% of U.S. adults had less than a high school education in 2016.